If you have a disability (a substantially limiting physical or mental impairment), please contact our office/claims examiner for information about the kinds of help available, such as communication assistance (alternate formats or sign language interpretation), accommodations and modifications.

Section 8107 of the FECA and its implementing regulations set forth the number of weeks of compensation to be paid for the permanent loss or loss of use of specified members, functions and organs of the body known as permanent impairment. 20 C.F.R. 10.404; see also 20 C.F.R. Part 10. The commencement period of the schedule award is usually the date of maximum medical improvement, the date that the physical condition of the injured member has stabilized and is not expected to improve further.

The FECA, however, does not in most instances specify the manner by which the percentage loss of a member, function or organ shall be determined. To ensure consistent results and equal justice under the law, good administrative practice requires the use of uniform standards applicable to all claimants. The implementing regulations have adopted the American Medical Association, Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment, as the appropriate standard for evaluating schedule losses. Currently, schedule awards are calculated using the Sixth Edition of the AMA Guides.

The percentage of permanent impairment noted above was based on the medical findings and report of Dr. Dr. dated 11/17/2016 and the report of the District Medical Advisor (DMA) dated 02/23/2017. Copies of these reports are provided for your reference.

The percentage of permanent impairment shown above was calculated by a District Medical Advisor, who applied the Guides to the medical findings provided by your treating physician. The calculation is proper in accordance with the Guides. The date of maximum medical improvement was determined by the District Medical Advisor based on the medical evidence of record.
